FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Readers seeking encouragement, purpose, and practical guidance for navigating today's challenging world will soon discover a powerful new resource, specifically related to the modern workplace, in On Fire!, the forthcoming book by author, communications strategist, and former senior government official, Angie Tracey.

Scheduled for release in late July, On Fire! explores what it means to live passionately for God while facing conflict, uncertainty, and negativity in everyday life. Drawing from a remarkable career that includes leadership roles with a U.S. Congressman, the Reagan Administration, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Angie Tracey offers readers practical wisdom for transforming difficult environments into places of hope, purpose, and positive influence.

Rather than struggling to find fulfillment and satisfaction in your work, On Fire! challenges readers to become agents of change — demonstrating integrity, joy, resilience, and faith in their workplaces, communities, and personal relationships.

"People are searching for ways to remain grounded and hopeful in an increasingly complex world," said Tracey. "On Fire! encourages readers to discover the power of a faith that not only sustains them but also inspires those around them."

On Fire! is available for purchase online at Amazon.com, Barnes and Noble.com, and other retailers.

About the Author

Angie Tracey is a writer and author, as well as a communications and strategic planning consultant for businesses, including Fortune 500 companies and non-profit organizations. An expert in workplace health promotion and prevention education, she began her career as a broadcast journalist and News Anchor for an NBC affiliate. Angie held leadership roles for a U.S. Congressman, the Reagan White House, and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. She retired as Sr. Advisor for Strategic Planning and Communications for the CDC. Angie founded the Christian Fellowship Group in 2001, one of the first Christian employee associations in the government.
